Section 3: Segment 11

Topic 2. Authorities Delegate Responsibility

- If you are serving in authority in your home, how are you doing in including, excluding, commending and correcting?

- In which areas are you slack? Ask your family for their input.

- Discuss with your family the level of peace in your home.

- Are there things that rob your home of peace? If there are, what needs to be excluded or corrected?

- Ask your family and close friends in the faith to evaluate your enactment of authority.

• Are you a servant leader who upholds God and administers correction in a loving manner? Or, are you an authoritarian who dominates and controls?

• Do you understand the importance of delegated responsibility?

• Are the parameters of delegation and how they're to be enacted clear in your household? Yes or no? If no, what do you need to clarify?

• When you're delegated responsibility at home, at work or in other contexts, do you adequately and loyally represent your authority person?

• Do you ever find yourself undermining a person in authority in order to make yourself look good? Give an example.
